GRADUATE STUDENT NON-ACADEMIC JOB SEARCH WORKING GROUP

Wednesday, November 6, 13, 20, December 4, 11, 18
12-1:30 p.m., Career Services

Are you struggling to get motivated for your job search? Come meet with a supportive and resourceful group of fellow graduate students for the next six Wednesdays to jump start your search and provide you with a safe place to talk about the common challenges you might be experiencing. Topics will vary each week and be guided by your needs and questions. Facilitated by Amy Pszczolkowski, graduate student career counselor. Kindly RSVP at http://bit.ly/13A5WPH.

“For Princeton graduate students, Career Services can be especially helpful. I attended a six-series workshop on non-academic job search where we discussed different aspects of the job search, as well as multiple resources that we have access to as graduate students of Princeton University.”
Arnab Sinha *12, EE, Microsoft