

imagine

the unimagined career journey

Career paths often take you in directions you might never have imagined while in school. Career Services' IMAGINE Speaker Series features Princeton alumni who never imagined their career journey unfolding the way it did. Come listen as they share their insights and their story...

Daphne Oz '08

New York Times
best selling author & cohost of ABC's hit lifestyle series The Chew

Daphne Oz is a New York Times bestselling author, natural foods chef, and cohost of ABC's hit lifestyle series, The Chew. A graduate of Princeton University, The Institute for Integrative Nutrition, and The Natural Gourmet Institute, Oz is The Chew's fresh face of health and resident practical tipster, sharing helpful information and her unique personal insights for fun, stylish, and — above all — delicious living! In 2003, Oz helped to co-found HealthCorps, a non-profit organization that provides nutrition, exercise and stress management education to teenagers in more than 50 schools nationwide. She and her husband live in NYC, and are expecting their first child in Spring 2014. Oz will share her career journey as well as advice for current students interested in the fields of health, nutrition, and broadcasting.

Thursday, February 20
4:30 to 5:30 p.m.
Frist 302

Space is limited. Student tickets will be available at Frist starting Monday, February 17. Alumni & the public, please email career@princeton.edu.