How to Start a Career in Tech & Help Change the World: No Coding Necessary!

Guest Speaker: John Wetenhall ´11

Friday, April 25, 2 to 3 p.m., East Pyne Building 027

Have you considered working for an organization like Instagram, Square, Tesla, or perhaps a startup you haven’t even heard of? Come hear from John Wetenhall ´11, a history major at Princeton who previously worked for two startups and is now at Atlassian, a growth stage software company. John will discuss opportunities for working in tech for those without a computer science/engineering background, the best way to find interesting jobs and companies, and the things you can do now to prepare yourself for a career in tech. Co-sponsored by the E-Club. Kindly RSVP at http://bit.ly/P9gdBl.