Are you interested in exploring options to use your research and writing skills outside of academia? As the nation’s largest philanthropy devoted solely to the public’s health, RWJF has worked for over 40 years to improve the health and healthcare of all Americans.

Join Graduate Alum, Matt Trujillo *13, Research Associate at RWJF, and leaders at RWJF for a lively discussion about the work of the foundation and the opportunities for PhDs in foundations.

Carpools will leave Career Services (36 University Place, Suite 200) at 11:15 am. If you are able to drive, please email Amy apszczol@princeton.edu. Lunch will be provided courtesy of RWJF. Space is limited, kindly RSVP at http://bit.ly/1oT7em3.
