Imagine
the unimagined career journey

Career paths often take you in directions you might never have imagined while in school. Career Services’ IMAGINE Speaker Series features Princeton alumni who never imagined their career journey unfolding the way it did. Come listen as they share their insights and their story…

Tuesday, November 11 • 6 to 7:00 p.m. • Career Services

Donnica Moore, MD, ‘81, P’15
Women’s health educator and advocate. President of the Sapphire Women’s Health Group and host of DrDonnica.com, a popular women’s health information website. Editor-in-Chief of the comprehensive, accessible book Women’s Health for Life.

Dr. Donnica is a popular speaker for professional, consumer, workplace and medical audiences. Moore has received more than 30 prestigious awards for her work in business and medicine, including the Women in Government Presidential Leadership Award. She is a member of the Board of Directors for the Society for Women’s Health Research. Her work has been featured in more than 40 periodicals such as Business Week, The New York Times, and The Wall Street Journal. She is most well-known for over 700 television appearances on shows including The Dr. Oz Show.

Dr. Moore graduated from Princeton University in 1981 and the SUNY Buffalo School of Medicine and underwent residency training in obstetrics along with gynecology and family medicine. She is the mother of two.

Tiana Woolridge’15 will interview Dr. Donnica during a dinner conversation with students. Space is limited for this unique opportunity.

Career paths often take you in directions you might never have imagined while in school. Career Services’ IMAGINE Speaker Series features Princeton alumni who never imagined their career journey unfolding the way it did. Come listen as they share their insights and their story…

Tuesday, November 11 • 6 to 7:00 p.m. • Career Services

Donnica Moore, MD, ‘81, P’15
Women’s health educator and advocate. President of the Sapphire Women’s Health Group and host of DrDonnica.com, a popular women’s health information website. Editor-in-Chief of the comprehensive, accessible book Women’s Health for Life.

Dr. Donnica is a popular speaker for professional, consumer, workplace and medical audiences. Moore has received more than 30 prestigious awards for her work in business and medicine, including the Women in Government Presidential Leadership Award. She is a member of the Board of Directors for the Society for Women’s Health Research. Her work has been featured in more than 40 periodicals such as Business Week, The New York Times, and The Wall Street Journal. She is most well-known for over 700 television appearances on shows including The Dr. Oz Show.

Dr. Moore graduated from Princeton University in 1981 and the SUNY Buffalo School of Medicine and underwent residency training in obstetrics along with gynecology and family medicine. She is the mother of two.

Tiana Woolridge’15 will interview Dr. Donnica during a dinner conversation with students. Space is limited for this unique opportunity.