AT PRINCETON UNIVERSITY

HOW TO USE THIS GUIDE

While there are some basic rules (spellcheck is a must!) and standard practices to resume writing, it is largely a personal undertaking. We encourage you to take a holistic approach to creating your resume, considering your unique set of experiences in relation to the types of roles to which you aspire. In other words, think of your resume as a marketing tool that demonstrates how a product (you) meets the needs of a potential customer (employer).

This Resume Guide is designed for both the novice resume writer and the more seasoned candidate. Follow the basic principles, adding in advanced components when appropriate.

Basic Principles of Resume Writing

1 Your resume's job is to get you an interview.

- Look at job descriptions carefully. If certain keywords, skills, or traits keep popping up, check that they are reflected in your resume in your own words.
- Experience comes not only from internships and jobs but from campus activities, class projects and volunteer work as well. There is value – what employers call transferable skills – in all you do as a Princeton student.
- Readers only know what you tell them. Include concise yet thoroughly detailed Action-Oriented Accomplishment Statements to pique a reader's interest.
- Demonstrate skills through your bullet points in addition to listing them in a "Skills" section.
- Think ahead to the interview. Make sure the content you'd talk about is well-represented in your resume.

3 Your resume should be easy to scan and digest in 15–30 seconds.

- Use bullet points instead of paragraphs. Avoid pronouns (I, we) and minimize the use of articles (a, an, the).
- Use CAPS, bold fonts, and line spacing to distinguish between sections.
- Keep document to one page. Set the margins between 0.75" and 1" (ideal) and no less than 0.5".
- Use consistent font styles and sizes (10-12pt) throughout the document.
- Save space by leaving off your mailing address. Your phone number and email suffice.
- List content in reverse chronological order in each section of your resume.

2 The document should be written with the reader in mind

- Consider the context for which you're using your resume and adjust content, headers and details to match the specific job/internship posting, scholarship application, career fair/ Meetup or other opportunity.
- Note differences in style, tone, keywords and content across industries and around the globe.
- Distinguish yourself from other Princeton students by detailing your individual role and unique impact, especially when several students may have the same experience (e.g., RCA, McGraw Center Tutor).
- Do not include personal information like age, Social Security number, marital status, religion or parents' occupations.
- Do you need a CV or resume? In the U.S., a CV is used primarily for admission to – or roles in – academia. It is a type of resume with an in-depth focus on research, presentations, academic awards, and/or publications.

4 As long as you are aspiring to professional advancement, your resume is a work in progress.

- Know that resume writing can be complex and take several tries to master.
- Save PDF and .txt versions of your resume. Keep prior versions of your resume for reference.
- Do not fear changing directions. You can reposition any experience by focusing on Transferable Skills.
- Ask for feedback from a Peer Career Adviser or schedule an appointment with a career adviser in Handshake.

.....Introductory Resume Worksheet

This worksheet is meant as a guide – not a template – for new resume writers.
Do not feel compelled to fill in every blank or section, just focus on those that reflect your experience.

CRAFTING YOUR DESCRIPTIONS

Adapted from South Dakota State University Office of Career Development; includes content from <http://artsbridge.com/how-can-a-theatre-major-prepare-you-for-success/>

Students often lament a perceived lack of experience, struggle to make connections between their experiences and what is required in a job description or worry about how experiences in one realm (e.g., independent research) translate into another (e.g., an industry internship). To allay those fears, use this three-step worksheet to (1) identify your transferable skills or the skills listed in a specific job description (2) note where those skills were learned/developed, and (3) turn these general concepts into Action-Oriented Accomplishment Statements.

Step 1: Identify your transferable skills

Place a check mark next to each skill you possess. Think about all settings in which you may have used/developed each skill. Then, circle the ones you consider to be your top 10.

Communication & Creativity

- Writing clearly and concisely
- Listening attentively
- Expressing ideas
- Using media to present ideas
- Reporting information
- Public speaking
- Making presentations
- Describing feelings
- Improvising
- Doing more with less
- Appreciating diversity
- Providing accurate descriptions

Leadership

- Generating and initiating ideas
- Managing and supervising groups
- Delegating responsibility
- Promoting and adapting to change
- Prioritizing tasks
- Identifying areas for improvement
- Facilitating meetings or group discussions
- Coaching/mentoring/counseling
- Evaluating progress
- Giving praise and credit
- Setting and accomplishing goals

Teamwork

- Making decisions with others
- Respecting others
- Eliciting input and providing feedback
- Developing rapport
- Sharing credit/cooperation
- Interacting effectively
- Collaborating in diverse or multicultural environment
- Meeting team expectations
- Perceiving feelings, situations
- Listening to others

Problem-Solving

- Anticipating potential problems
- Defining problems and possible causes
- Identifying and selecting solutions
- Creating innovative approaches
- Involving group members in problem-solving
- Developing plans to implement solutions
- Establishing general principles
- Teaching/training others
- Solving problems/mediating
- Implementing sound decisions

Research

- Forecasting/predicting
- Designing an experiment
- Imagining alternatives
- Identifying resources
- Extracting important information
- Defining needs
- Development strategies
- Formulating conclusions
- Conceptualizing ideas
- Observing and discovering
- Analyzing information
- Presenting findings
- Learning new tools/techniques

General Work

- Managing time
- Setting and meeting deadlines
- Accepting responsibility
- Enlisting help
- Editing/proofing
- Negotiating/persuading
- Seeking opportunities for professional growth
- Taking initiative
- Managing time and stress
- Responding well to feedback
- Remaining calm under pressure

ACTION-ORIENTED ACCOMPLISHMENT STATEMENTS

Showcasing what you've done and why it mattered is the best way to ACE resume writing! Start with an Action Verb to show you did something. Then provide the Context for that action using quantitative and qualitative terms. Lastly, demonstrate the End Result of your actions to show the value of your contributions!

Sample Accomplishment Statements

- Allocated $1,500 budget to promote annual National Coming Out Day rally, increasing participation 25% over previous year.
- Coordinated three fundraising events for local shelters, raising $8,000 and greatly improving community awareness.
- Collaborated with a partner to formalize a 400-page training curriculum, creating a structure that made the progression of material clear and logical.
